GILGANDRA’S COO-EES

The Coo-ee Honour Wall provides a poignant insight into the lives of the men who marched from Gilgandra to Sydney to volunteer for service in WW1.

To commemorate the Centenary of the Coo-ee March it was important to bring the stories of the Coo-ees to life and to remember and honour them.

These men represent an enduring symbol of all who have served.

SERVICE DETAILS James trained at Liverpool and embarked from Sydney to Egypt aboard HMAT A15 Star of England on March 8, 1916 with the 13th Battalion. After training in Egypt, he arrived in France in June 1916 with the 1st Anzac Cyclist Battalion. He was hospitalised in England after several episodes of gunshot wounds while with the 45th battalion. Promoted to Sergeant in July 1917, James was awarded the Distinguished Conduct Medal on September 18, 1918. The citation reads: “For conspicuous gallantry and good work during the attack west of Bellenglise, north of St. Quentin, on September 18, 1918. He was Scout Non-Commissioned Officer. On the battalion reaching the objective, he took forward an exploiting patrol with a Lewis Gun. He came in touch with three 5.9 Howitzers and their crews. He rushed the crew, six of the enemy being killed and fourteen captured. The horses were killed and owing to this the guns were captured.”

FATE James returned to Australia and was discharged on August 10, 1919. He married Jessie Fenton in Dubbo 1920. Jessie’s sister, Minnie Fenton, married a fellow Coo-ee, William Howard.

COMMENT James attended the Farewell Ball the night before the Coo-ees were to leave. Swayed by the speeches, he decided to enlist and rode back to Mendooran to tell his family. He returned in time to be photographed marching out of Gilgandra.

AGE ON ENLISTMENT  18
HOMETOWN ON ENLISTMENT  Dubbo Rd,
                            Gilgandra, NSW
OCCUPATION  Horse Trainer
PREVIOUS SERVICE  Nil stated
UNIT/S  6th Light Horse

SERVICE DETAILS  Tyson passed his medical examination by Dr Peet in Gilgandra on October 30, 1915. The recruiting officer accepted him in Lawson on November 7 and he marched to Sydney with the Coo-ees. At Liverpool he was attached to the 6th Light Horse and remained at the depot but his behaviour was less than satisfactory. He was discharged in May 1916 as he was unlikely to become an efficient soldier. He tried to enlist again in the District of Darling on the June 29, 1917 but was rejected. At a proceeding of the Medical Board at Victoria Barracks on the November 30, 1917 he was found to be unfit for active service because of vision problems due to Trachoma.

FATE  Tyson was discharged on November 30, 1917

COMMENT  “Chicken” Ryan was a well-known figure working around Gilgandra until his death in 1976 at the age of 79. He is buried in the Gilgandra Cemetery where his wife and parents are also buried.
ERNEST SIMPSON

SERVICE NUMBER  Depot
AGE ON ENLISTMENT  33
HOMETOWN ON ENLISTMENT  Horsham, Victoria
OCCUPATION  Labourer
PREVIOUS SERVICE  Nil stated
UNIT/S  Liverpool Depot

SERVICE DETAILS  Ernest failed the medical in Gilgandra because of a hernia before the march started, but decided to march anyway and hoped to pass the medical in Sydney.

FATE  After 16 days in camp a Medical Board Report found that he had a double inguinal hernia, Ernest was rejected as medically unfit on November 29, 1915.

COMMENT  He was mis-named as C A Simpson, which prevented confirming his service record until recently. Ernest was keen to enlist and was described as “the strongest man that has offered, and is otherwise sound as a bell”. He had stayed in Gilgandra for three weeks waiting to join in the Coo-ee March but because of the hernia, did not pass the medical examination.
PRIVATE WILLIAM SMITH

HOMETOWN ON ENLISTMENT Geurie, NSW
OCCUPATION Grocer
PREVIOUS SERVICE Nil stated
UNIT/S 56th Battalion

SERVICE DETAILS William enlisted with the Coo-ees at Stuart Town on October 20, 1915 and served for three months but was discharged due to sickness. He then re-joined at Dubbo on November 1, 1916 and arrived at Devonport, England on the Beltana on January 29, 1917. He joined the 56th Battalion on December 13 in France and was involved in the capture of Peronne in September and the battle of St Quenton Canal. In December 1918 he was admitted sick to the Casualty Clearing Station and spent the remainder of his time in England in hospital and convalescence around Bulford and Parkhouse.

FATE William returned to Australia on the transport ship Friedrichsruh, arriving in Sydney on September 4 and was discharged on October 12, 1919.

COMMENT He received the Victory Medal and the British War Medal. It is interesting to note that replacement medals were sent to him per Gilgandra District Hospital on May 18, 1959.
PRIVATE STANLEY EVERARD STEPHENS

SERVICE NUMBER 6320
AGE ON ENLISTMENT 25
HOMETOWN ON ENLISTMENT 25 Roslyn Gardens, Darlinghurst, NSW
OCCUPATION Journalist for Farmers and Settlers Newspaper
PREVIOUS SERVICE He first saw action with the Royal Australian Navy New Guinea and the New Britain Archipelago on September 11, 1914
UNIT/S 13th Battalion
SERVICE DETAILS Stanley had come to Gilgandra to cover the Coo-ee March for the Farmer and Settler newspaper. He liked what he saw so enlisted and marched with the Coo-ees, sending detailed stories back to Sydney. After training in Liverpool he embarked on the Euripides to Plymouth, arriving on October 26, 1916. He arrived in France on January 2, 1917, when the 13th Battalion was in the Somme. He was wounded during an attack at Guedecourt and rejoined the unit after two weeks. On April 11, 1917 at the First Battle of Bullecourt, he was reported missing in action.
FATE That day saw 367 men missing in action, 25 men killed and 118 wounded. A court of enquiry held in October 1917 declared that Stanley was killed in action on April 11, 1917.

He has no known grave and is commemorated on the Villers Bretonneux Memorial.
COMMENT Stanley’s mother, Ephie Stephens was the secretary of the 13th Battalion Comfort Fund. His younger brother, Percy (1611) was also in the 13th Battalion; he survived and returned to Australia.

SERVICES NUMBER 5644
AGE ON ENLISTMENT 21
HOMETOWN ON ENLISTMENT Miller St, Gilgandra, NSW
OCCUPATION Ironmonger
PREVIOUS SERVICE Nil stated
UNIT/S 5th Battalion and the 20th Battalion

SERVICE DETAILS Leo joined in Gilgandra and marched to Sydney with the Coo-ees but his chest measurement wasn’t large enough and he was discharged medically unfit. Several months later he re-enlisted at Dubbo and was accepted. Leo embarked for England on the Euripides on September 9, 1916 and arrived on the Western Front in January 1917. He was on the front line when he was wounded in the arm and chest – one of 16 men wounded and 6 men killed that day. It was classed a successful operation where 200 German prisoners and a machine gun were taken.

FATE He returned to Australia on the hospital transport Barda and was discharged on January 4, 1918.

COMMENT His third enlistment in WW1 was with Special AIF Escort. Leo embarked for England on the HMT Ypinanga with deportees. He had three weeks leave in London before he returned to Australia where he was discharged on February 7, 1920. Leo also served overseas in the Second World War. By then he was postmaster at Tarcutta and married to Sylvia Johnston.

PREVIOUS SERVICE  Nil stated
UNIT/S  13th Battalion and the 45th Battalion
SERVICE DETAILS  Thomas trained at Liverpool with the 13th Battalion and sailed for Egypt on the HMAT Star of England on March 8, 1916. After further training in Egypt, Thomas went to England then to France with the 45th Battalion. The first action he saw was at Pozieres in August 1916 then to the Somme Valley in March. He was wounded at Messines on June 7, 1917, suffering a gunshot wound to his abdomen.

FATE  Thomas was sent to England for treatment and convalescence then returned to Australia on the Demosthenes and was discharged on November 1, 1917.

COMMENT  Thomas was awarded the Military Medal on August 21, 1917 for “his gallant conduct and devotion to duty during an attack on an enemy trench near Guedecourt on the night of February 22/23, 1917 when, as a runner he maintained communication overland under artillery and machine gun fire between the front line and headquarters. His work in this respect was quite consistent with his previous fine record established for coolness and determination in the face of all obstacles”.
