www.gilgandra.com.au

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF COUNTRY.

Gilgandra is known as a "meeting place" between three Aboriginal nations - Wiradjuri, Gamilaroi and Wailwan and we proudly continue to be a meeting place for family, friends, locals and visitors alike.

Gilgandra Shire Council acknowledges the traditional custodians of the land on which we live, work and play. We pay our respects to our Elders past, present and emerging, and thank them for the contribution they have made, and continue to make, in the cultural identity of our nation.

Through this process, we aim to facilitate a collaborative way of working together with all our stakeholders to consult and agree on aspirations, priorities for our Region and to build a more resilient and progressive future.

We thank the community for their continued participation in helping develop the projects we will deliver over the next term of Council and beyond, for Gilgandra Region to become a place for all of us to

OUR COMMUNITY

The word Gilgandra is taken from an Indigenous language meaning long water hole.

Today, the Indigenous population of Gilgandra is 14% (2016 Census). This is significantly more than the state average of 2.9%.

Gilgandra was officially declared a town in 1888, with the Shire established in 1906. Gilgandra Shire has a land area of 4,836 kms², with an estimated population of 4,236. In addition to the township of Gilgandra, the Shire has two villages; Tooraweenah located at the southern entrance to the Warrumbungle National Park (estimated 233 persons), and Armatree in the north of the Shire (estimated 152 persons). Gilgandra is located 65kms north of Dubbo, one of the largest inland cities in NSW. Through Dubbo our residents to have access to a base hospital, specialist medical services, employment opportunities and a regional airport.

The geography of the Shire is flat and highly suited to broad acre farming. Farming is a major contributor to the Gilgandra economy. In recent years health, disability services, and aged care have emerged as large employers in the community and form an important part of a diversified economy.

MANDATORY ENGAGEMENT

The Community Participation Plan (CPP) is a requirement of the Environmental Planning & Assessment Act (EP&A Act). The objectives of the CPP is to set out the processes for community engagement and feedback on the use of land, proposals for the sustainable development of land, and the social and economic wellbeing of community. The CPP works alongside principles of GSC's Community Engagement Strategy (CES), but our CPP is specific to development within the local government area. The purpose of the CPP is to:

- build community confidence in the planning system,
- create a shared sense of purpose between Council and the community in regard to understanding the need to manage growth and change while preserving local character,
